SUBJECT Fourth year cardiology elective

The changes in schedule virtually eliminated the senior cardiology elective. In addition it seems likely that planned changes in curricula will also eliminate time for this elective and plans are underway to integrate a senior cardiology course into the new curriculum. Teaching resources are heavily (and increasingly) used, especially by earlier classes.

In view of this Dr. Runge feels that it would be most appropriate to offer the elective to the January group¹ and once more in March or April of 1998 and then discontinue this elective in favor of scheduled courses.
