Dear Bruce

Enclosed are the only copies of the exhibit pamphlet which you apparently objected to my having. It was my understanding that you did not want John Wallace to see ~~the~~ Xerox copies and that galley proofs would be made available for review before printing. I certainly did not construe this to mean that I was not to have an interim record for what should be obvious reasons. In any event trust that the return of ~~the manuscript~~ my only copy of our manuscript unseen by anyone will allay whatever concerns you had.

Bruce, an author of a scientific writing no matter how how modest cannot treat it as a trade secret if he hopes to continue to write on the subject which I shall -

Sincerely
J. Kenton
